Technical visits

We are organizing guided tours to Pantanal and Chapada dos Guimarães. These visits will take place on October 28th and 29th (Saturday and Sunday). By the end of August, we will provide updated information about these activities, as well as about the registration procedures. Make plans for spending the weekend in Cuiabá to participate in these activities!

Climate

Cuiabá's climate is tropical and moist. The raining season lasts from October until April and during the rest of the year, between May and September, warm and dry air masses in the central zone of Brazil prevent showers. Cuiabá is famous for its hot weather and medium temperatures are around 26°C.
